

Friends

Spend time with your friends. Find people who lift you rather than drag you down. And be that kind of friend too. Have fun with your friends. Laugh with them. Love them. Have good times with your friends . . . for those good times turn into memories that are priceless.