Give it time

If you ever wonder what you should do about a particular situation or find yourself in a dilemma, give it time. Sleep on it. Give it a few days. Put it on the "back burner" in your mind and let it simmer. After giving it some time, you'll know what to do.